

RunPhones Prepares to Launch Their New Highly Anticipated Wireless Headphones

Erie, PA – AcousticSheep LLC, makers of the most comfortable headphones for exercise, are preparing to launch RunPhones® Wireless, their latest version of RunPhones® headphones. RunPhones® Wireless are ultra-slim, patented headphones inside a sport-style headband for active people seeking a safe, comfortable headphone. They are the best sport headphones on the market and will be available October 1, 2014.

The new RunPhones® Wireless has all of the same great features as its predecessor, RunPhones® Classic. The snug, wicking headband keeps sweat at bay while on the go, allows for greater safety by letting some outside sounds in, and features superior sound with eco-friendly, lead-free electronics. The two main differences are that it's wireless for ultimate comfort and convenience, and they're now available in a new, improved breathable fabric with an updated assortment of vibrant color choices.

RunPhones® Wireless are predicted to be as popular with AcousticSheep customers as their sleep counterpart, SleepPhones® Wireless.

“Our customers have been eagerly anticipating the October 2014 release of the wireless version of RunPhones®,” said Lai. “Exercise enthusiasts have been asking for them for a while and are thrilled to have comfortable headphones without the hassle of a wire.”

RunPhones® Wireless were granted a 2014 International CES Innovations Design and Engineering Award. CES is one of the largest consumer electronics trade shows in the world and is held annually in Las Vegas, Nevada. They have been recognizing achievements in product design and engineering since 1976. Longevity in battery life, safety and comfort were high priorities in the development of this product.

RunPhones® Wireless easily pair with any Bluetooth®-enabled device, are rechargeable via a micro-USB cable (included with purchase), and will retail at $99.95. These machine washable headphones for exercise sport a money back guarantee and will be available October 1, 2014.
